

Ray Tully

My favorite subjects are Western landscapes, especially those of California and the desert Southwest. Living in Maryland, I also paint the occasional floral or garden scene. Although I have no formal training in art, I have 30 years of self-taught expertise. My work has been displayed in numerous juried exhibitions, including with the Los Angeles Audubon Society, the Laurel and the Patuxent Art Guilds in Maryland, and three times with Yosemite Renaissance. My work is also in a number of private collections.
